COMPROMISE REPORT.

Republicans and Two Democrats May Agree on Hawaii.

A MAJORITY OF THE COMMITTEE

Of the Senate Investigating the Matter Opposes the President's Policy. Two Reports Probable-Republicans Willing to Forego the Advantage of a Complete Endorsement of Stevens to Join the Democrats Opposed to Cleveland's Policy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4,-There are many reasons why the Republican members of the subcommittee of the committee on foreign relations of the senate, now engaged in investigating the Hawaiian matter, should be willing to compromise with two of the Democratic members, Senators Morgan and Butler, and unite in making a majority report that will be satisfactory to the opponents of the administration. Such a report, in the first place, would have the weight and prestige of being made by four-fifths of the sub-committee, leaving Mr. Gray to work out his own salvation and that of the President in a minority report of one. Then, too, it would have the advantage of presenting the appearance of being a perfectly non-partisan report, free from party prejudice, being signed by an equal number of Republicans and Democrats.

Of course it would be difficult to arrange just the terms of such a report, for much would have to be conceded by each side, and much accepted by both that would be wholly unpalatable under ordinary circumstances. Senators Morgan and Butler belong to that large faction in the senate which is opposed to the President on so many policies that they are almost out of his sphere. They were in the minority in the great silver fight, and thus found themselves opposing his recommendations. They lost no opportunity to declare their hostility to him, and especially their regret at his so-called disregard of the theories that are supposed to underlie the relations between the executive and the legislative branches of the govern-ment. Though neither of these two senators has expressed any open hostility toward the President in this particular matter, yet it is openly avowed by their friends that they are eager to find some way in which they can apply to him the screws that he put on the senate last autumn during the silver

THE REPUBLICAN IDEA.

The main idea of the Republican senators on the sub-committee is to vindicate the course of President Harrison and Minlster Stevens. They use all other phases of the controversy as stepping stones to this end. Mr. Blount is of no consequence personally on the matter, as far as they are concerned. They desire to save the Republican prestige and to put the President in an awkward position. Yet they are willing, it is whispered, to forego some of the advantage of a complete indorsement of Mr. Stevens in this particular for the pleasure of a pointed slap at the President. They are, therefore, not averse to a plan that will combine the interests of the dissatisfied Democrats with their

A COMPROMISE REPORT. Such a report might be outlined, therefore, on this basis, but on no other: Mr. Harrison's course to be accepted without comment and Mr. Stevens' tacitly rebuked for an excess of zeal, the appointment of Mr. Bount criticised as unwarranted and unprecedented, and the efforts of the President to restore the queen characterized as needless and impolitic, with a declaration that it is the sense of Congress that she should not be restored. Thus both Republi-can and Democratic prestige would be maintained, so far as the parties are concerned, while the party opponents of the President would be given the chance to disapprove of the course that he took on the ground that it was a per-sonal cause, unwarranted by any action or theory of the Democracy, and therefore not to be laid at the doors of the party. Of course such a step would be a serious one, and not to be taken with-out grave deliberation. The character of the two Democratic senators who would sign it suffices to disarm much of the oyposition that it might incite. The fact that Mr. Gray has already placed himself on record as an advocate of the President's actions, and that he has expressed himself since the subcommittee began its sessions, as of the opinion that nothing would be developed beyond the conclusions of Mr. Blount, makes it the easier for the other Democrats to take the high ground of ruthless investigators, determined to uproof the truth of the case, regardless of the consequences.

Should this course be not adopted it would then be necessary for the two anti-administration Democrats to ally themselves with Mr. Gray, or to make an independent report.

DISASTROUS WRECK

In Which Two Men Are Killed and One

Badly Hurt. WARSAW, N. Y., Jan. 4.—A freight collision on the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad at about 2 o'clock this morning resulted in the death of two men and the serious injury of another. The first section of train 33 left this station at 1:30 a.m., and was to take up cars at Rock Run. An empty coal car and the caboose were left on the main track in charge of a flagman, who must have gone to sleep and failed to set the brakes. The cars and caboose, in which the three men were doubtless asleep, came down the hill at a fearful speed, and struck engine 94, on section two of No. 33, just as it was pulling out of the west end of the yard. The ca-boose and six cars were utterly wrecked. The killed were: D. J. Cashman, of Machias, and William Morrell, brake-man, residence Elmira.

George W. Keifer, the flagman, is badly injured.

Cashman's body was found under the wreck; Morrell's on top of the boiler of the engine. He was evidently in the cupola of the caboose.

Says Its Absurd.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 4.—The report that the Pennsylvania intends extending its system to Omaha is characterized by Second Vice President Green as absurd. It being the settled policy of the company not to build or acquire any lines west of the Mississippi river.

The Cause Is Yet a Mystery-How the Flames Rapidly Spread. Toledo, O., Jan. 4.—The cause of last night's fire is as yet a mystery. The flames broke out in the upper part of F. N. Quale & Co.'s elevator, and, before the firemen had gotten fully to work, an explosion occurred, presumably of dust, which tore off the upper part of the building, and gave the strong southwest wind which was then blowing an opportunity to fan the flames into a tremendous conflagration. Directly across Water street, which is a very narrow thoroughfare, stood the chamber of commerce block, extending through to Summit street and occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Com-pany, the American District Company, Spitzer & Co.'s Bank and the First Na tional Bank. The upper stories were occupied as offices by lawyers, insurance men, etc., and the progress of the flames were so rapid that the law libraries, private papers and other contents of the officer could not be sayed. It is such personal losses as these which render an accurate ascertainment of the total loss almost an impossibility this morning.

While the fire was thus eating its way westerward the wind carried the flames to the northwest across the slip which occupied the width of Madison street at the river, and soon the business block and elevator occupied the space be-tween Water street and the Maumee was rapidly consumed. The Water street portion was occupied by the of-fices of C. A. King & Co., two job printing offices and a number of other small business offices. On the river front next northward from the King elevator is an old elevator, the first built in Toledo, which has not been used for several years. It caught fire a number of times, but the firemen succeeded in extinguishing it.

The chamber of commerce was destroyed within thirty minutes. It was a roaring furnace of flames. The fire worked its way to the next building southward on Summit street, belonging to the estate of C. L. Luce and occupied by C. H. Moore, of Detroit, as a museum and theatre called Wonderland. This was rapidly destroyed, with the animals and birds in the menagerie department on the upper floor. The next building southward, a four story structure occu-pied by the wholesale drug house of West & Truax, next fell a prey to the flames and was totally destroyed, with its contents.

A careful estimate of the losses foots up three-quarters of a million dollars. It is by all odds the greatest fire Toledo

A COMBINED ATTACK

On Mello's Fleet Contemplated by Presi-

New York, Jan. 4 .- The Herald's special dispatch from Montevideo says: Information has just been received here from the correspondent in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, which is looked upon as indicating that Peixoto is determined to get together all his ships available before attempts to crush Mello's navy. Peixoto, it is reported, has sent a dispatch to Toulon, France, ordering his war vessels, the Riachuelo and the Benjamin Constant, which have been building at that place, to go to Pernambuco with all speed and join the fleet the president is gathering there. Latest reports received here about these two Brazilian war ships were to the effect that they were still far from being in shape for effective service.

THE DEAD UNBURIED

Because the Government Has Taken the Grave Diggers for Soldiers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The Herald's special dispatch from Lima, Peru, says: The government authorities here are going to great lengths in their efforts to levy soldiers to serve in the regular army. Even boys twelve years old have been seized in the streets by the recruiting details and dragged to the barracks, where they are forced to enter the ranks.

It was impossible to bury some corpses which had been taken to the cemeteries for interment yesterday as the grave diggers and laborers employed at these places had been forcibly taken away from their work and without a moment's warning and hustled off to become soldiers.

Evans Located.

FRESNO, CAL., Jan. 4.-The latest news from the mountains is that Evans and Morrell, the bandits, have been located at Demaster's logging camp on Dinkey creek, about four miles from Pine Flat. Officers were to surround the camp and it was expected that by to-day the question would be as to whether Evans would be brought from the hills dead or alive. Parties who arrived from the hills were so confident officers had trapped the outlaws that they were freely offering bets that Evans would be brought in within forty-eight hours.

Soldiers Hurt Badly. Berlin, Jan. 4 .- A dispatch to the Lokal Anseiger from Warsaw says that the barracks of the Sophie regiment at Smolensk have been burnt, and that several soldiers were terribly injured through jumping from windows. The dispatch adds that the fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin, and that the military authorities are making a thorough investigation.

King Humbert's Fortune.

MILAN, Jan. 4.—The Secolo declares that the private fortune of King Humbert, of Italy, amounting to one hundred million lire, has been deposited with the London house of the Rothschilds. The Secolo also says that the greater portion of this sum has been saved out of the civil list at the rate of about 10,000,000 lire per year.

Gold Shipments.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—Some gossip is being indulged in as to the probability of further immediate gold shipments in view of the fact that the average loss of gold to the treasury in January for the past twelve years has been $9,600,000. Some of the treasury officials do not believe there is any prospect of such shipments, while others hold the opinion that with the stiffening of rates of exchange, such exports are altogether probable. The be-lief is general, however, that if such shipments are indulged in, the New York banks would not come to the re lief of the treasury to any considerable extent and thus prevent the depletion
